KAUR 89, Augustana College's radio station provides a unique opportunity for Augustana students to improve their oral communication skills, as well as a chance to display creativity in their shows.

Approximately eighty students per semester were involved with the operation during the 1988-89 academic year in a variety of duties. Included in these duties are news reporting and on-air reading, dateline production, disc jockeys, and sports commentators.

The station, known for its music alternatives, plays jazz, Christian rock, and many new, non-top forty cuts twenty-four hours a day.

Student executive staff for the year included Dan Lund, station manager; Troy Smutny, program director; Scott Strand, production director; Janet Shumaker, news director; Mark Whittenberg and Mark Eckert, music directors; Kristen Hasche, traffic director; and Jim Chenoweth, sports director.
